Bunkers International provides brokering services globally.

OVERVIEW

Bunkers International has offered brokering services since the day the company was founded — and brokering remains a vital part of our business today. Brokered customers know they can rely on our team to provide them with aggressive advocacy to ensure that they receive the best the market has to offer. Bunkers International has a long list of “brokered-only” customers who rely on us to be impartial and seek out the best pricing and product.

Bunkers International provides market analysis, contract options (hedging, fixed, and formula-based), technical guidance, logistics assistance, up-to-date pricing, and proactive, personalized service to keep our customers satisfied. Our team has multiple supply sources in most ports, and constantly monitors pricing, fuel quality, and supplier performance — saving our customers time and money.

THE BEST TEAM

Bunkers International does more than just brokering. We provide trading services worldwide and physical supply services in specific geographic locations. Performing these other operations benefits our brokered customers by providing them with a seasoned team of bunker professionals who know what to look for, and how to keep things on track. Our team knows which ports and suppliers to recommend, which fuels meet today’s strict international specification, current pricing, and market trends worldwide. This network of information sources and contacts is available to our brokers and traders worldwide, empowering them to procure the best marine fuel products for our customers.
